

A better way is on the way!

Take the pain out of Hybrid Meetings

As the world opens up again and the workforce slowly returns to the office, has your meetings technology kept pace? Are you set up for productive hybrid meetings, with some people remote and others in a huddle room?

You know your colleagues are comfortable logging into a video conference call from their laptop at home, but how easy is it for them to join a call from the office? Can they be sure that the camera and microphones are connected? Is the wifi signal good enough? Do they know how to share their screen with other participants? What if it's a Microsoft Teams call one day, and a Zoom meeting the next?

Introducing Airtame Rooms and Airtame Hub

We're taking the guesswork out of joining a conference call from your meeting room. Our new solution makes video conferencing as simple as turning on the light switch.

Airtame already provides a reliable screen sharing experience in your meeting rooms. Who better to bring the hybrid meeting experience up to date, with a stable, secure solution that's easy to use?

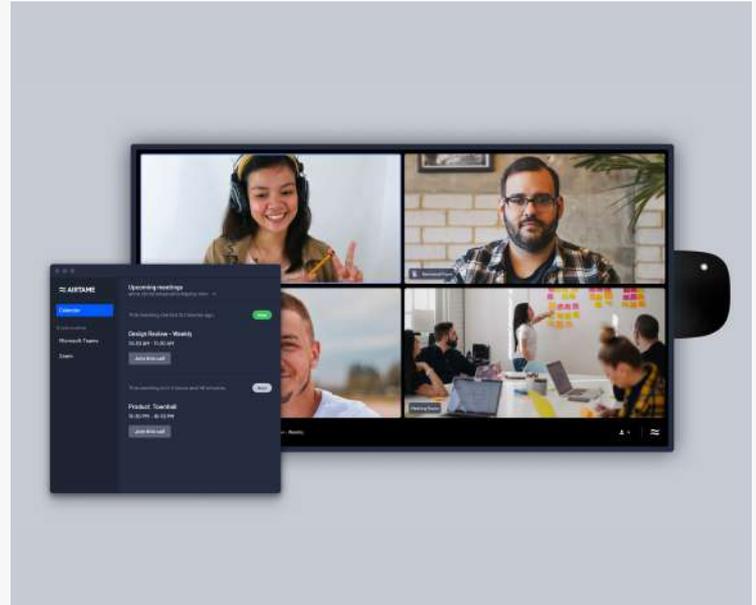

- Run both Microsoft Teams and Zoom calls with the same set-up. You don't have to choose!
- Keep your room set-up stable by securely attaching the peripherals to the Airtame Hub
- Ensure a stable call with a Power over Ethernet enabled connection

Airtame Rooms: a seamless hybrid experience

Our new software service lets you CastYourCall™ from your laptop to the Airtame Hub and run the meeting without the usual hassles

- Connect to Teams and Zoom through a single interface, with more services to come
- Integrate with your calendar to access meetings directly
- Anyone in the room can share their screen without joining the call
- Requires an annual subscription per device

The Airtame Hub: a stable and secure meeting set-up

The hub of your huddle rooms and meeting spaces, Airtame's new device provides a single connection point for your conferencing set-up. Run the call from the Hub, not on your laptop, and remove the doubt from your hybrid meetings

- Power over Ethernet (PoE) enabled connection ensures low latency and reliable calls
- All of your peripherals are securely connected, so your room setup stays in place
- A stylish design that looks good in your meeting room
- Built to handle high-quality calls and screen sharing

The new Airtame solution for hybrid meetings will be available for pre-order in April!

Just can't wait?! We have some units available now for early adopters. Contact us at sales@airtame.com if you're interested in trying it out before anyone else
